LOCAL ITALIANS TO TAKE PART IN DEFENSE PARADE

Sons of Italy and Columbus Fraternal Society to Keep Up Records.

HOME RED CROSS WORKERS

To Re-Assemble in Order to Form a Section; New Haven Hose Company, Escort of Draftees During the War, To be in Line with Band.

The Italian residents of Connellsville and vicinity, who gave such abundant proof of their loyalty to their adopted country during the World War, and who always took a conspicuous part in the parades and other demonstrations, will form a large contingent in the Defense Day parade.

Both of the Italian patriotic organizations, the Sons of Italy and the Columbus Italian Fraternal Society, are preparing to make a fine showing on this occasion. Each has a membership of several hundred and, although the time is short, it expected that, next to the battalion of Baltimore & Ohio railroad, they will form the largest single unit in the parade.

P. Bufano, venerable, or president, of Florentino-Concordia Lodge No. 157 of the Sons of Italy, will be in charge of that organization. He urges members and their friends to assemble at the Bufano Building at 2:30 P. M. Friday. A. Basilone, president of the Columbus Fraternal Society, will direct its assembly and movements in the parade.

The New Haven Hose Company, which acted as escort to every detail of draftees which left Connellsville during the war, and the first organization of the city to volunteer for duty on Defense Day, will be in line accompanied by the Firemen's Band.

Mayor C. C. Mitchell announced this morning that he will issue a proclamation calling upon the people of the city to take an appropriate part in the exercises of the day, not neglecting to make display of the Flag at their homes and places of business.

J. Fred Kurtz, chairman of the Fayette County Chapter, American Red Cross, has appointed a committee to arrange for the participation of former Red Cross workers in Connellsville and vicinity in the parade. The committee consists of the following: Mrs. John L. Gans, chairman; Mrs. Edna J. Brendel, Miss Claire Dixon, Mrs. John F. Torrence, Miss Catherine O'Connor.

A meeting of this committee will be held at the residence of Mrs. Gans, 202 East Washington avenue, tomorrow evening at 7:30 o'clock.

All former Red Cross workers who received service medals are requested to wear them in the parade. If the weather is warm, white dresses will be worn with white head dress, but in case of cool weather, coats or other wraps can be used. Inasmuch as the line of march is short, it is expected that a large representation will participate. The Red Cross section will be headed by an American and Red Cross flag carried by two Boy Scouts. Further particulars will be announced tomorrow by the committee.

Rev. Lambertson Return to Local Church 11th Year

Rev. J. H. Lambertson was returned to the pastorate of the First Methodist Protestant Church of Connellsville at the close Monday of the annual conference, held at East Liverpool, Ohio. This will be Rev. Lambertson's 11th year with the local congregation.

Other assignments in the Connellsville District, of which E. S. Hawkins is chairman, were:

Dunbar, C. W. Bolton; Broad Ford Mission, to be supplied; Uniontown, First, E. S. Hawkins, D. D.; Second, T. W. Colheur; Fairmont, to be supplied; Stahlstown, to be supplied; Perry Mission, to be supplied by G. G. Conway; Chalk Mill Mission, to be supplied; Bellevue Mission, to be supplied; Cool Spring Mission, to be supplied; Hopwood Mission, to be supplied by D. E. Minerd; Mount Braddock Mission, to be supplied by O. W. Bolton; Earle Terry, in the hands of the president of the conference.

Airmen Arrive at National Capital Three Hours Late

By United Press.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—America's globe circling fliers arrived over the Capital at 2.20 P. M. They soared majestically in great circles over the city and came to rest at Bolling Field.

Buffeted by storm and baffled by fog on the entire trip from Mitchell Field, L. I., and forced down at Aberdeen, Md., to refuel, they arrived over three and one half hours after schedule time.

As they approached Bolling Field an escort of seven planes dropped to earth while the around-the-world fliers continued on toward Arlington to drop a floral tribute on the grave of the Unknown Soldier.

WASHINGTON, Sept 9.—The world fliers took off from Aberdeen proving grounds, Maryland, for Washington at 12:40 P. M., eastern standard time, after stopping half an hour to re-fuel and await better visibility conditions, according to radio advices received at Bolling Field. Aberdeen is 70 miles north of Washington.

ABERDEEN, Md., Sept. 9.—Their speed slackened by unfavorable weather conditions, the around-the-world fliers descended here at 12:08 P. M., eastern standard time, today for lunch. The fliers encountered fog and strong head winds between Mitchell Field, N. Y., and Aberdeen.

A 40-mile per hour head wind had cut their progress virtually to a snail's pace. The fliers took two and one half hours to cover the 100 miles between Mitchell Field and Philadelphia, an average of 40 miles per hour, though their regular speed, under good conditions, is 90 miles per hour.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8.—Despite a drizzling rain, President Coolidge cut short his Cabinet meeting today and took his official family with him to Bolling Field to await the arrival of the around-the-world aviators. Long before he arrived a huge crowd had packed the edge of the landing place, standing good naturedly in the rain.

As the time dragged by the President and his cabinet tired of sitting in the reviewing stand and, taking advantage of the clearing sky walked around the field, inspecting airplanes. Mr. Coolidge got in one and took a flying lesson from an officer. The President lunched with the officers at the field.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 9.—The world fliers passed over Baltimore at 1:57 P. M., eastern standard time today.

MITCHEL FIELD, L. I., Sept. 9.—The American fliers took off for Bowling Field, Washington, at 9:36 A. M., eastern daylight time, today in a drizzling rain. The fliers took the air together and were in a V formation as they soared away.

Major General Patrick in command of the Army Air Service, and two other airmen followed in a plane.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 9.—America's around-the-world fliers, with Lieutenant Lowell Smith, flight commander, in the lead, passed over Philadelphia at 12:04, daylight time. Whistles from every river craft and factories gave the fliers a noisy greeting.

WILMINGTON, Del., Sept. 9.—The around-the-world fliers passed over Wilmington at 12:34 P. M. They circled a few minutes over the state fair grounds and then headed for Baltimore.

SMOCK WOMAN'S DEATH ACCIDENTAL, HUSBAND'S CLAIM

Accidental shooting was the claim of Henry Sheppard, colored, of Smock, in the opening of defense testimony in Uniontown today in the case wherein Sheppard is charged with murder of his wife, Helen, at Smock on May 31, last. Sheppard testified that he had picked up a revolver and had told his wife it was unsafe to have it lying around and that he intended to throw it away. He was in the act of dismantling it when it was exploded, he said.

The murder jury follows:

William Myers, Markleysburg.
Harold Caton, Uniontown.
John Riley, Connellsville.
Jesse Murphy, Georges 3.
David Frankenberry, Springhill 2.
George W. Haught, Menallen 3.
Charles Addis, North Union 2.
Mrs. Virginia Cole, South Brownsville.
Mrs. Sarah G. Boyd, German 5.
Pauline Donahoe, Franklin 1.
Clarence Fletcher, Upper Tyrone 2.
Mrs. Adaline Glover, North Union 2.

But one case was heard by Judge H. H. Reppert during the day. Mike Pohour, of near Oliver, was found guilty by a jury of possession and manufacture of liquor.

Chief Murphy Back.

P. M. Murphy, chief of police, resumed his duties today, after being off on his vacation.

Rebuplican Women Will Hold Rally Thursday Evening at Elks Hall

All arrangements have been completed for a big rally of the Republican women's organization of Connellsville, to be held Thursday night, September 11, at 8 o'clock in Elks Hall, at which time Mrs. Clifton A. Verner of Pittsburg will deliver an address. Mrs. Verner comes highly recommended and is in such a demand as a speaker that the women of Connellsville feel they are to be congratulated upon securing her for this date. She will be prepared to explain the principles of the Republican party and will have a fund of information which is sure to appeal to the woman who wants to put forth convincing argument as to why she is a Republican and why she expects to remain one.

An additional and attractive feature of the meeting will be the appearance of the Republican Ukulele Club, composed of 14 girls led by Prof. Chauncey H. Wirsing, banjoist and mandolinist. G. O. P. selections to the tune of popular songs will be rendered. The committee in charge assures a real treat for all who come out to the meeting, on Thursday at 8 o'clock at Elks Hall. The meeting is for all Republican women of Connellsville and promises to be one of the biggest demonstrations of the kind ever held in Connellsville. No admission will be charged and no collection will be taken.

MAINE STANDS BY G. O. P.; ANTI-KLAN CANDIDATES LOSERS

Republicans Elect Senator, Governor, Four Congressmen, Other Officials.

RECORD VOTE POLLED

By United Press.

PORTLAND, Sept. 9.—Maine has gone Republican by 30,000 to 40,000 and William R. Pattangall, Democratic candidate for governor, running on an anti-Ku Klux Klan platform, has been defeated.

Returns from yesterday's state elections showed that the state remained regular in every way. The Republicans elected one United States senator, four congressmen and a majority of the state and county tickets. A record vote was cast.

State Senator Ralph O. Brewster of Portland, Republican candidate for governor and accused by the Democrats of having the support of the Ku Klux Klan, claims to have carried 475 of 633 election precincts. Returns from these precincts show: Brewster, 116,691; Pattangall, 81,620.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—President Coolidge today congratulated the Republican organization in Maine on its sweeping victory in yesterday's election. In a telegram to George L. Emery, chairman of the Republican State Committee at Portland, Me., Mr Coolidge said:

"Accept my congratulations in the significant and decisive victory for the Republican ticket in the state of Maine."

Firemen's Band Makes Change in In Its By-laws

At a meeting of the Connellsville Firemen's Band Monday evening it was decided to take part in the Defense Day parade. All members are asked to be at the Armory at 2:30 Friday afternoon, in uniform. The meeting was attended by all but two members, and at this time the following motion was passed and will form part of the by-laws of the organization:

"The Connellsville Firemen's Band play only for occasions that all members are eligible to play, and that if other 'jobs' are taken by men that are members of this band they shall not wear any uniform, or anything that will cause the public to look upon them as representing the Firemen's Band."

The next rehearsal will be held on next Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock

Kurtz Post Invited To Reception for Commander Arensberg

Members of William F. Kurtz Post No. 104, Grand Army of the Republic, of which W. P. Clark is commander, have received an invitation to the reception and lunch to be held on Defense Day, Friday, September 12, at the American Legion home in Uniontown in honor of Dr. L. F. Arensberg, new commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Representatives of the Kurtz Post will be in attendance.

MAYOR MITCHELL URGES OBSERVANCE OF DEFENSE DAY

Mayor Mitchell this afternoon issued the following proclamation on the observance of National Defense Day:

Not in a spirit of militarism, but in a manner which will best evidence our ability to combat attack, the people of our country have been called upon to set aside and celebrate Friday, September 12, 1924, as National Defense Day.

To this end, capable persons have been named in each community throughout our land to assemble and mobilize our forces and supplies in such a way as to properly appraise ourselves and others of our ability to instantly and orderly transform our country from a peace-loving nation to one capable of repulsing any foreign encroachment, made so by our agricultural resources and industrial productiveness, coupled with a spirit of patriotism which knows no bounds.

Therefore, I, Charles C. Mitchell, mayor of the City of Connellsville, do hereby call upon the citizens of our city to depart from their regular routine and join with all others in a proper observance of Friday September 12, 1924, as National Defense Day.

Ordinance Before Council to Regulate City's Milk Supply

At a meeting of the Board of Health, held last evening, a milk ordinance for Connellsville, advocated by the State, was discussed. W. W. Smith, representing the State Department of Health, attended the meeting and urged the adoption of such a measure.

The health board took no final action on the ordinance submitted but held over its decision until a meeting to be held later this month. At that time a full attendance of members is expected.

City Council last evening introduced an ordinance at its meeting for the regulation of the sale of milk but it is understood the health board does not endorse every feature of the measure. It is very probable that after the latter body further considers the ordinance at its coming meeting, Council will change its measure to conform with that urged by the Board of Health.

Mr Smith, at the meeting last evening, pointed out that in Connellsville there were a score of typhoid fever cases, presumably caused by the sale of raw milk.

Relative to the typhoid fever here, it was pointed out that in the past several days only two new cases have been reported, one developing last night.

Tennis Trophies Will Be Awarded Wednesday

At the noon luncheon of the Connellsville Kiwanis Club tomorrow the presentation of the trophies to the winners in the first annual open tournament of the Connellsville Tennis Association will take place. The victors and officers of the association will be guests of the Kiwanians.

The Kiwanis Club trophy, offered in the men's singles, was won by Kier Boyd of Pittsburg. It is a beautiful silver loving cup and will be held by Mr Boyd for a year. He must defend it at the next tournament of the association, however, it being a three-leg trophy.

WATER COMPANY WILL GIVE BETTER FIRE PROTECTION

Mains in Three Sections of the City Will Be Enlarged, Council Told.

FRANKLIN AVE. PROTEST

Property Owners on Part of Street File Remonstrance to Paving Before Cost Is Investigated; Bids for Arch and Prospect Streets Opened.

Following tests which showed that the water supply for fire protection is inadequate the Connellsville Water Company has agreed to increase the size of its mains in three sections of the city, Council was informed at a meeting Monday evening.

After the pumper was received the Fire Department made tests which showed that the mains in some places were inadequate in size. The matter was taken up with the company by Assistant Solicitor J. Kirk Renner with the result that the following extensions are to be made:

Extension of six-inch main out First street, from Crawford, tying with the six-inch main in Leisenring avenue, and providing two lines to Twelfth street.

Extension of eight-inch main in Pittsburg street from Gibson avenue to hydrant at railroad crossing supplying Lockhart Iron & Steel Company.

Extension of line from Snyder street over the field to Jefferson street, in lower East Park, to provide better supply for that section of city.

Work will be started as soon as the materials can be landed on the ground.

An ordinance for the improvement of Franklin avenue was introduced, after proponents and opponents of the proposal had been heard. R. V. Reading represented the citizens who ask that the street be paved. He and others had previously been before council and the ordinance had been prepared for introduction. H. M. Swartzwelder and C. F. Hirst filed a petition signed by themselves, Mrs. May R. Hogg and others asking that Council investigate the probable cost before proceeding. They suggested that instead of Franklin avenue that Blackstone avenue, which fronts their properties, be paved, in connection with a part of Franklin. The latter street runs along the rear of their properties.

It is improbable that anything will be done before next spring.

Bids for the improvement of South Arch street, south of the Yough brewery and for North Prospect street and for a sewer line in Green and Blackstone avenues, West Side, were opened. Awarding of the contract was held over until Friday evening.

The contract for a sewer along Trump run was awarded to I. Alfredo DePolo, whose bid was $566.50. He also was awarded the contract for a sewer extension in Chestnut street, the cost of which will be $180.

An ordinance to prohibit the further erection of gasoline stations in Crawford avenue between the city line on the east and Ninth street on the West was introduced.

The matter will probably be further considered when Council and the Planning Commission meet Friday evening.

JUNIORS HOLD HOME-COMING AT MILL RUN

Mill Run Council of the Junior Order of United American Mechanics held an old-fashioned picnic and home-coming on the grounds of the Indian Creek Baptist Church. Three hundred persons attended. As the day was chilly the after-dinner program was held in the church, with Rev. Frank S. Wortman presiding. It was:

Devotions, Rev. Wortman; music by an orchestra of eight pieces from Oblopyle; address on the Daughters of America, S. M. May of Connellsville; presentation of American flag to Mill Run School, Lincoln Rugg of Dunbar; response by Dwight Dickey, teacher; music by the orchestra; address, "It Takes Sand to Make an Order Grow," J. W. Prinkey of Connellsville; history of the Junior Order, George Skinner of Mill Run; closing remarks by Rev Wortman.

The remainder of the afternoon was given over to the sports program. The married men and the single men played baseball. There were a number of races.

In the evening there was a box social and a cake-walk.

G. A. R. Circle Chief Coming on Thursday

Mrs Margaret Frantz of Pittsburg, department president of the Ladies' Circle to the Grand Army of the Republic, will be in Connellsville Thursday afternoon for the annual inspection of Circle 100.

Officials of the circle are desirous that there be a full attendance of members at Odd Fellows Hall at 2:30 o'clock for the inspection and reception for the commander.

Marine Band Will Play Here September 29

The United States Marine Band's second appearance in Connellsville will be the big event in musical circles for this month. This announcement was made today by J. E. Wallace, secretary of Connellsville Lodge No. 503, B. P. O. Elks, under whose auspices the world-famous organization will render an afternoon and an evening concert at the Orpheum Theatre, Monday, September 29.

The primary object in arranging the band's appearance here was to afford the people of the city and its environs an opportunity to hear and enjoy music produced by the greatest musical organization the world has ever known. A guarantee of $1,500 has been given by the lodge to cover the band's expenses here, this being necessary before the contract would be approved by the secretary of the navy. It is the intention to make the price of admission within the reach of all. If there should be a surplus of money after meeting actual expenses this will be added to the Elks charity fund and distributed to the needy poor at Christmas time.

There is not an institution in our country today more symbolic of the true American spirit than this time-honored body which proudly boasts an unbroken record of continuous action from the bitter days of the Revolution to the present time, and whose service to the nation at all periods has been as spotless and unblemished as the flag it represents.

Born of necessity, nurtured on patriotism and developed by the enthusiastic encouragement of notable men it has thrilled, for 123 long years the unsullied reputation of the United States Marine Band has been an inspiration to all loyal sons of the Republic.

Pet of all Presidents, from John Adams to Calvin Coolidge, and idol of every generation of Washingtonians since the Capital of the Nation was established in that beautiful city, no pageant, parade or demonstration of national or international importance has ever been staged in the District of Columbia that the red-coated musicians of the noted organization have not been the center of all gaze.

There will be 65 men in the band when it comes to Connellsville, every one of whom is a soloist of renown.

CAR TURNS OVER FOUR TIMES; THREE IN IT ARE UNHURT

After a touring car in which they were returning from work at Mount Braddock had turned over four times along the Uniontown road, just south of the road to Dunbar, Monday afternoon, two of the occupants were found to be uninjured while the third escaped with a cut on the hand. Skidding was the cause of the accident. The car landed in a field on the Dunbar side of the road and 100 feet from the road.

Wendell Matjak, of Dutch Bottom, Connellsville, was the owner of the car and was at the wheel. With him were John Hlina and Andy Bosak. Matjak suffered a cut on the hand.

John J. Brady, John Patrick and Miss Evelyn Walker, in separate cars, witnessed the somersaulting and aided in extricating the men who were pinned under.

The top and front of the machine were smashed. It was towed to the plant of the New Haven Motor Company.

City Will Accept Bank Basement for Use as Rest Room

The offer of the First National Bank of the use of the basement of the bank for a rest room for women and children has been presented to Council and meets with favor.

Councilman James Wardley, superintendent of parks and public buildings, will probably offer a definite plan for its maintenance at a meeting Friday evening.

Police Court Fines In August $2,170

During the month of August, the mayor's report today showed a total of $2,457.50 was collected by his department. Of this amount $2,170.50 was fines. The total secured from licenses was $12 and $274 was received through the license tax. A single dance permit was $1.

Police made 73 arrests during the month. Of these 55 paid fines, eight were discharged and the remainder served jail sentences.

Faints on Street Car.

Miss Katherine Neagoda of Mount Pleasant, fainted on the West Penn street car arriving here this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock from Mount Pleasant. The woman was removed from the car and following the arrival of a physician she was taken to the Connellsville State Hospital. She had regained consciousness and her condition was improved later this afternoon.

PLAN TO INSURE BETTER PRICES FARM PRODUCTS

Is Aim of All Candidates Seeking the Vote of Western Farmers.

DAVIS AND LAFOLLETTE

Profuse in Promises but Lacking in Details as How to Market Farm Surplus Abroad; Coolidge Wants an Inquiry Best Kind of Organization.

By DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright 1924 by The Daily Courier.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9.—The idea of a national corporation either government controlled or the development of a coöperative plan to take care of the exportable surplus of American farm products, may get into concrete form as a consequence of the discussion of agricultural needs during the presidential campaign.

John W. Davis's speech in Omaha amplifying the Democratic platform on the subject of an export commission or corporation does not reveal whether the nominee is willing to endorse the McNary-Haugen bill which caused so much controversy at the last session of Congress, but both Davis and LaFollette are declaring themselves for the principle of unified control of exports so as to enable the farmer to get better prices for his wares.

Now that it is apparent that the farmer is getting higher returns, due to the favorable weather here as contrasted with short production in foreign countries, the dissatisfaction of the farmer is to some extent appeased, but it does not prevent the candidates who are after the farm vote from pointing out what seem to them ways and means of getting even better prices.

In other words, the debate over the method by which the exportable surplus shall be handled has not ended. Davis in his Omaha speech did not take exactly the same ground that Governor Bryan of Nebraska did before he was a nominee for the vice presidency, but he came close enough to indicate that the influence of the Bryan family which helped write the idea into the Democratic National platform is still dominant on agricultural questions, and from now on the advice received from the vice presidential nominee may be seen running through the speeches of the Democratic nominee for the presidency. Davis could not very well dismiss the Democratic platform's pronouncement for an export corporation but if he were against the idea at heart he need not have dwelt on the subject in his Omaha speech.

Governor Bryan came out for the McNary-Haugen bill or "something like it" before the Madison Square Garden convention. Critics of the McNary-Haugen bill have been demolished that proposal but they have not always offered an alternative. The west does want an alternative. Mr. LaFollette has not explained in detail his solution. Mr. Davis has gone further than President Coolidge but to get up real interest on the issue he will have to give a bill of specifications as to how the export corporation will actually function.

President Coolidge has said that he wants an inquiry begun to determine the best kind of an organization to set up. He will appoint such a board before the campaign is over. Before that body will come many schemes no doubt for agricultural relief. During the last session of Congress all sorts of proposals were made but no action was taken. Bill after bill either was defeated or sidetracked in the legislative jam.

The chance of arousing the west on agricultural questions now lies wholly in the kind of solution proposed by each candidate should there be a recurrence of conditions which in the last two years have brought the Brookharts, Norrises, Magnus Johnsons and other west radicals to the heights of their power. The simple rise in farm prices may hold many votes in line now but they will not still the cry after election for something definite to market the farmer's crop.

By the time Davis gets through with the west he may discover that a detailed agricultural program is desirable and one of its that it will be carried into effect. Low freight rates takes in one phase of the problem of decreased costs and an export corporation looks to the establishment of a plan that will enable the domestic prices of wheat to ascend in conformity with a higher export price. These questions are of sufficient importance to turn the tide in any campaign. Both the Democratic and Independent nominees are scratching the surface. Before November comes, they as well as President Coolidge will find western sentiment for a concrete plan more and more insistent, especially should there be a tumble in any of the principal farm products.

Doctors' Offices Raided for "Dope"

Offices of three doctors, one in the First National Bank and two in the Sellers Arcade, were ransacked by burglars early Sunday morning, but according to reports nothing was secured in any of them, except a small quantity of diluted cocaine,

It is believed the robbers were after narcotics. Offices entered belonged to Dr A R Kidd Dr H C Hoffman and Dr H D Minerd The latter two are in Sellers Arcade The thorough search was made for the narcotics but none were secured At Dr Kidd's office the cocaine solution not fit for use by a drug addict was taken

No Raid at Dawson.

A raid on the home of George Porterfield by Constable Jerry Ritenour and other officers, was not made at Dawson, but outside the corporate limits in Upper Tyrone township Constable W R Koffel said today, at the same time asserting that 'Dawson is a clean town' and that he as constable is able to take care of affairs there without the assistance of the Vanderbilt officer.

Rain Severe Blow First Day of Fair; Sunshine Tomorrow

First-day hopes for attendance at the Dawson Fair were shattered by the steady downpour of rain of the morning. Despite the weather however several hundred persons were at the park to view what the fair management declared to be the greatest and largest displays of cattle poultry hog and industrial products assembled at any fair in Western Pennsylvania

The fair management took out rain insurance some time ago, so that it is protected against loss by the inclement weather

The three-day racing program is scheduled to start tomorrow afternoon Much will depend on the weather The noon forecast is fair tonight and tomorrow

Four races are scheduled for each of the three afternoon two stake races being run off each day The total purses for the 12 racing events aggregate just $7000 enabling the Cochrans to attract the best horses on the half-mile circuits and assuring the best racing that it is possible to obtain Wednesday will be the feature day at Dawson In addition to the four races Peter Manning and Sanardo of the Geers stable will attempt to lower the track record

Thomas Berry Flemington, N J horseman who has been an understudy to the late "Pop Geers for many years and attached to the Geers stable for 15 years will drive Peter Manning, the world's champion trotter on Wednesday afternoon in an attempt to lower the track trotting record He will also pilot Sanardo the fastest pacer in the harness late Wednesday afternoon against the pacing mark

The night shows at Dawson will attract thousands There is dancing every evening and on Wednesday and Thursday afternoons All the shows rides amusements are open at nights The midway is larger than any preceding aggregation of shows and clean shows are offered The usual accomodations for transportation to and from the fair grounds prevail Meals are served in the spacious dining room while lunches are also available there and at innumerable open air stands Plenty of tables and chairs are available for picnickers. On Wednesday and Thursday evenings there will be a fireworks display

The Cochrans obtained racing judges that are far superior to those generally presiding at half mile track meetings They are Joseph McGraw grand circuit presiding judge Late Shaffer the veteran driver and for years a trainer for the Geers stable and one of the most intimate friends of the late Pop Geers and R E Biggs of Baltimore Md Incidentally the latter has entirely recovered from the injuries he sustained at Dawson last September when a railing leading to the judges stand gave way and precipitated Mr Biggs to the ground

Constipation lays you wide open to other diseases—relieve it with Kellogg's Bran

Don't take chances with constipation! This terrible ailment can send poisons into your system which may lead to serious diseases. The longer those poisons accumulate, the more dangerous they become. Begin at once to free your system from them.

Eat Kellogg's Bran. If eaten regularly, it is guaranteed to relieve the most chronic cases of constipation, or your grocer will return your money. It is nature's own way to make the intestine function naturally and regularly—for Kellogg's Bran acts exactly as nature acts It makes forever unnecessary the use of habit-forming drugs and pills.

Kellogg's Bran, cooked and crumbled, has proved successful when all else has failed This is because Kellogg's is ALL bran. Doctors everywhere agree that only ALL bran can be 100 per cent effective—they recommend Kellogg's Bran.

Eat at least two tablespoonfuls daily—in chronic cases with every meal. You will like it. You will enjoy the delicious nut-like flavor—the exclusive Kellogg flavor.

Eat Kellogg's Bran, cooked and crumbled, with milk or cream. Sprinkle it over other cereals. Cook it with hot cereals. Try it in wonderful bran muffins, bread, griddle cakes and other recipes given on every package.

Kellogg's Bran is the road back to health It is made in Battle Creek and is served in individual packages at the leading hotels and clubs everywhere Ask for it at your restaurant. It is sold by all grocers.

EXAMINATION FOR RURAL CARRIER AT VANDERBILT 11TH

Joseph Darby, Who Is Serving Route Out of Town, Unable to Continue.

OTHER NEWS OF THE DAY

Special to The Courier.

VANDERBILT, Sept. 8.—A rural carrier examination to fill the position of rural carrier here will be held at the Connellsville Postoffice on Saturday, October 11. Postmaster H. D. Shallenberger is anxious to have about five applicants for the position and will give any information desired regarding the position.

Joseph Darby, rural carrier probate, is unable to qualify for the position being physically handicapped. He is acting as a relief man. The postmaster is anxious to have several men qualify for the position so as to have them ready for duty in case there is an unexpected vacancy.

Ellis Colbert Released.

Ellis Colbert of Dawson was released last evening by Justice of the Peace R. E. McLaughlin when arraigned to answer charge of assault and battery with intent to rape. Miss Nellie Beach of Star Junction was the prosecutrix and testified that the affair took place on Saturday, July 25, at the Colbert home. Mrs. Josephine Westover of Sandrock was the only witness called upon. Bert Colbert, also conected with the affair, was present but not called upon. Charles Robolt, another witness, was not present. C. L. Davidson, of Uniontown, attorney for the defendant, cross examined the witness and prosecutrix. With the settlement of the case, the defendant and the prosecutrix were ordered to pay the costs 50-50.

Last week, the prosecutrix was assessed a fine of $21.87 when arraigned for a trespassing charge filed by Mrs. Martha Colbert, mother of Ellis Colbert.

The court room was crowded with curious and interested spectators. The case was spicy throughout. Five women were found to be in the crowd said to be numbered at 200.

Horseshoe Tilt Today.

An all-star horseshoe team from Connellsville is scheduled to appear in town this evening, meeting the local tossers. Jerry Ritenour is captain of the local contingent of tossers. Just who will represent the visiting team is not known. The game is scheduled to get under way at 8 o'clock. The game will be played on the Vanderbilt A. C. turf.

Road Being Opened.

About 500 yards of the repaired Vanderbilt-Connellsville road was opened last evening. Traffic can go as far as the Hershman farm along the road. The road is being steadily opened. The opened portion was closed to traffic for 21 days. The straw was burned last evening.

Rain Holds Up Recreation.

The recreation program of the James Cochran Memorial Methodist Episcopal Church will get under way as soon as the weather permits, Rev. C. H. Beall, director of recreation work at the church, announced today. Rain interfered with the plans for today.

Another Trespassing Case.

The fourth lawsuit within three weeks charging trespassing was settled at the offices of Justice of the Peace C. B. Arison yesterday. Donald Miller, Layton Blackson, William Pierce and Robert Lloyd were assessed fines and costs, totalling $9.95 each upon information brought by Mrs. Angelo Lape of Lower Tyrone township. Besides trespassing, the youths were charged with disorderly conduct. They are said to have been fighting and disturbing the public near the Dawson Driving Park.

"Golfers" Warming Up.

The crack local "barnyard golfers" underwent a warming up session last evening in getting ready for this evening's tilt with the Connellsville tossers. Clyde Newmyer, Jerry Ritenour, Michael Pondorff, Joseph Darby, Dave Wilson, Wade Bailey and John Pondorff turned out. Mr. Newmyer is one of the town's doubles champions.

Personal Mention.

Andrew Sepkovic, Martin Kotch, Medley Johnson, Kelly Shallenberger, Joseph Ambrose and R. F. McLaughlin were callers in Connellsville last evening.

Louis Stoner was calling on friends in Uniontown Sunday evening.

Mother of three children tells experience with "Mother's Friend."

"I USED 'Mother's Friend' before my last baby came," writes Mrs. McCormick, Liberty St., Fenton, Mich., "and brought him with very little discomfort. I am the mother of three children but I never had such an easy time with the other two. I recommend 'Mother's Friend' to all expectant mothers."

"Mother's Friend" is applied externally. It relieves that tight feeling; prevents undue nervous tension, of uneasiness and lessens during expectancy and at child-birth.

Talk of Forming Athletic Club to Run Boxing Shows

The fight fans will be treated this winter, from present indications. Two prominent Vanderbilt business men and another from Adelaide are planning to consolidate into an athletic club and hold several boxing shows in the Slavish Hall, West Side, Connellsville. Although several local business me began work on the boxing shows last season, nothing was materialized. The city has lacked boxing shows since Duke Barry pulled reins from here.

If the plans in mind materialize, the trio will hold the first show on Thanksgiving Day at the hall.

Capstan-Divada Game Postponed

For a cool and efficient motor

PROVE it yourself! Fill your crank-case with high-heat-resisting Atlantic Motor Oil. Then give your motor the severest operating test you know—driving through dense traffic in low gear; up steep hills in second; over long stretches without stop. Atlantic won't break down!

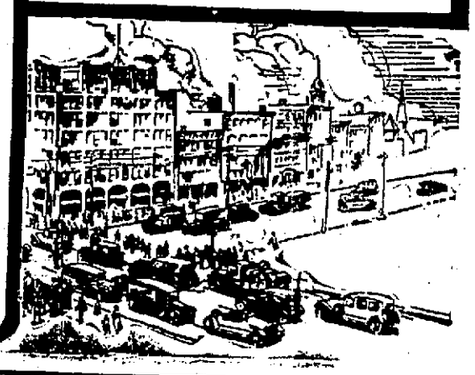

You yourself can tell: By the way your motor holds its power—by the way Atlantic keeps the pistons sealed; by the same quietness your motor has at the end of a run that it had at the st t; by the "feel" of the oil before and after it has become heated.

The extraordinary high-heat resistance of this oil is a recent achievement of the Atlantic refineries. Use it and know the full meaning of motor dependability, efficiency and longevity.

MAINE ENDORSES COOLIDGE AND DAWES.

Despite the prodigious efforts of the Democratic national and state committees to elect at least some part of their ticket in Maine, with a view to using such a result as proof of a trend of sentiment toward Davis and Bryan, the Republicans have elected their full ticket which includes a governor a United States Senator and four Representatives in Congress

The claim of Pattangall the Democratic candidate for governor was that the Ku Klux Klan was the chief issue in the campaign, notwithstanding General Dawes, in his only speech in the state denounced the hooded order vigorously Brewster the Republican candidate for governor made the issues of the national campaign the issues in the state campaign He plainly told the people that a vote for the Republican ticket would be an endorsement of President Coolidge and so construed throughout the nation

Ignoring the Klan as an issue and refusing to appeal to religious or racial prejudices Brewster presented the plain facts of the situation that there exists neither necessity nor desirability to make a change in the national administration

That the people of the Pine Tree State accepted his views, and rallied vigorously in support of the Republican ticket not only discredits the extravagant claims of the Democrats that Davis and Bryan are gaining in strength but it is significant of precisely the opposite condition—that, as the campaign advances the people in all sections are becoming more and more convinced that it will be as unsafe as it will be unwise to assume the risk of entrusting the national government to the representatives of that party which is daily becoming more radical in its tendencies.

The people of Maine like those of the whole nation want common sense in government That is why they endorsed Coolidge and Dawes by the election of the full Republican state ticket

FREEING SCHOOL CHILDREN OF GOITRE.

It having become an established fact that Connellsville and vicinity is a section in which many persons have contracted goitre and many others are susceptible to an attack of this annoying disfigurement of the throat and neck, the parents of school children ought to be glad that the Board of Education is taking steps that will tend to eradicate the disease and prevent its inception in children predisposed to an attack

The origin of goitre having been determined to be due to a deficiency of iodine as a normal constituent of the thyroid gland medical science has demonstrated beyond reasonable doubt that by the administration of iodine in small doses the thyroid gland functions normally and its unsightly enlargement is prevented This method of treatment has been adopted with such large success in the public schools that the medical fraternity everywhere has unreservedly approved its use

In Connellsville where goitre has become endemic, particularly among girls of school age parents are given opportunity to have their children undergo very simple treatment and without cost or charge to them Cards are being given school children the signing and return of which indicates the willingness of parents to have the treatment administered This will consist merely in taking a small tablet of iodine each week during the school term. The tablet is without objectionable taste and absolutely harmless to any child

In view of these and other known facts in connection with goitre and the possibility that if treatment is neglected an operation may at some time become necessary, or heart disease chronic invalidism or death may result, there should be no hesitation on the part of parents to coöperate to the fullest extent with the school authorities in aiding in the building and maintenance of the health of children as the essential of first importance to their happiness and efficiency as the men and women of a few years hence

The British Empire and the United States in Contrast

Baltimore Manufacturers Record

Of 5_000 000 square miles of land area on the earth the British Empire controls about 14,000,000, or largely more than one-fourth, as against 3,000,000 square miles for continental United States

The British Empire has approximately the same relative control of the world's population or somewhere in the neighborhood of 400,000 000 or more inhabitants

The resources in raw materials of that mighty empire far and away the greatest in extent the world has ever known under one flag are almost measureless in extent Canada alone, with an area surpassing that of the United States has resources sufficient to enrich even the whole British Empire It has raw materials of many kinds, almost unnumbered millions of acres of fertile soil vast virgin forests and mighty water powers

Great Britain with its century-old domination of the world's finances of the world's shipping, and until of late years of its coal and iron and steel and cotton-manufacturing interests with its practical domination during the 50 years or more of the world's shipping interests, having relatively a larger control over the water area of the earth than it has over the land area should logically have so developed its wealth by developing Canada Australia, India and other countries and its own resources in England Scotland, Wales and Ireland, as to lead the world in industrial progress and prosperity. But it has not done so To a large extent Great Britain is stagnant Its people are complaining of poverty millions of them are anxious to emigrate This condition is not due to the World War for it was in evidence long before the war

In contrast with the poverty and pessimism which rules throughout Great Britain and with the gradual lessening of its industry as compared with that of this country is the enormous expansion of the United States The London Mail in a lengthy article on the subject contrasts the conditions in its country with those in the United States The United States ' say the Mail, produces more than half of the world's steel and of the products made of steel Millions of workers own comfortable homes and have a telephone and a motorcar and other luxuries of which the English workingman scarcely dream" New York according to the Mail, alone has vastly more buildings than the whole of the United Kingdom and in a long line of other things America's superiority is overwhelming

There is some reason for this striking contrast The British Empire has been falling behind and signally failing to keep pace with its former relative position in the world of trade and with the growth of the United States The London Mail attempts to solve the problem, and its answers to the question as to why, Great Britain is not keeping ahead while the United States is rushing forward is that Great Britain has adhered to Cobden's theory of free trade while the United States has built its marvelous wealth on a Protective Tariff

England has gone on a basis of low wages at home and still lower wages in India and elsewhere It has made a fetish of cheapness and is reaping the inevitable result The United States has gone on a basis of high wages protected by a tariff, and the abounding progress and prosperity of this country are the inevitable result here

It is well for us to see the situation as viewed by the London Mail, one of the great daily papers of that Empire

Following LaFollette

Harrisburg Telegraph

Inasmuch as Wisconsin is dominated politically by Robert LaFollette and his theories of government filter through all the activities of the people, the fact that a bill relating to the teaching of the Constitution of the United States in public and private schools was defeated by the legislature at Madison is causing much comment.

Not willing to accept a newspaper statement on this point and in the interest of fairness, the Telegraph addressed a letter of inquiry to the secretary of state in the capital of the LaFollette preserve Replying the chief of the Legislative Reference Library sends a copy of the bill introduced in the Wisconsin assembly last year This bill he writes 'was indefinitely postponed without a rollcall

Deader than a door nail by this action the measure which had first been referred to the committee on education was evidently dropped from further consideration It was simply a little bill providing that 'in all public and private schools there shall be given regular courses of instruction in the Constitution of the United States beginning not later than the opening of the eighth grade and continuing in the high school course, and also the courses of the state colleges universities and educational departments of state and municipal institutions—all to an extent to be determined by the state superintendent of public instruction"

But as LaFollette evidently did not a move the Constitution of the United States, a subservient legislature without so much as a rollcall "indefinitely postponed the bill It's little wonder that the intelligent women of Wisconsin are determined to save the good name of their home state by repudiation of LaFollette and all his works

Nor is it less significant that intelligent workingmen and labor organizations everywhere are denying the right of some of their leaders to deliver them, body and breeches to the LaFollette-Wheeler combination

Business Is On the Upgrade

Business Review Federal Reserve Bank

During the past month there has been a gradual improvement in the important iron and steel trade and numerous other industries have shown increased activity A spirit of confidence has largely replaced the pessimism and apprehension that existed three months ago Credit remains cheap and abundant and the progress made with regard to the Dawes plan gives promise of a more stabilized Europe

In analyzing this betterment of conditions it must be remembered that business in many lines usually begins to pick up at this time of year so that some improvement would naturally be expected Another factor however must be taken into consideration at this time, and that is the materially higher prices being received for farm products The question then arises as to how much of the increase in orders noted in various lines is due to seasonal factors and how much to the anticipation of subsequent buying on the part of the farmer

There is a further question as to whether such buying when it does come will exceed or fall short of anticipations It is as yet too early to answer these questions but in comparing business conditions with a month or two ago it may be repeated that there has been an improvement, and that business at the present time is on the upgrade

SILENCE.

The silence has a language of its own
And whispers thoughts beyond the gift of pen
Words never uttered by the lips of men
Or found in any books that I have known
Strange messages which come to man alone
And hint of worlds beyond our mortal ken
Spoken so softly he scarce hears and then
Lost in the babble of life's harsher tone
Who gives an hour to silence hands at rest
His mind released from petty care and fear
Will have a mystic counselor for his guest
Whose speech is lost upon the common ear
Unto his soul all nature will recite
Poems of beauty Milton couldn't write.

Fayette Sunday School News

By J H Collins Secretary

The county secretary is in receipt of a supply of credential cards which he will be pleased to issue to anyone desiring to attend the annual State Convention to be held at Washington Pa., on the 8th, 9th and 10th of October. An application addressed to the office of the Fayette County Sunday School Association, No 7 Court street, Uniontown, Pa will bring in return the credential card, together with full instructions to delegates a card on which application may be made through the entertainment committee for lodging reservations, and an identification certificate entitling the holder to reduced railroad rates No doubt there will be quite a delegation attend from Fayette county since it is not often that a state convention is held at so point so convenient of access to our local people.

County Superintendent George F Griffin recently gave one of his stereopticon exhibitions in the Mill Run District, in the interest of teacher training Our county may well be proud of the record made under his supervision The last report shows that of the 67 counties Fayette stood seventh with a total of 122 graduates, Westmoreland and Berks counties being the only two that outstripped her to any appreciable extent Next to consecration a proper training is the of the most important attributes of a successful Sunday school teacher and it is the aim of the Sunday School Association to provide for the same high standards in Christian education that is demanded and maintained in the matter of secular education

* * *

On the last Sunday of August the Indian Head District held their annual convention in the Evangelical Church at Paynetown. The speakers of this occasion included Miss Fern Colborn W L Whipkey and L G Choppenning In addition to the county president and secretary A special feature of the convention was the excellent music rendered by the male quartet composed of L H Rush leador and the Kumeron brothers of Scottdale The election resulted in the selection of the following persons as officers of the district President J H Layman vice-president Ira Pletcher, secretary, Charles Siegsman treasurer, R J Dix district superintendents children Miss Leah Gary, young people, Miss Mildred Adams, adult William Knopsnider administration, S E Solomon Christian education Rev George Engle class organization Mrs J L Wilcox home and extension Mrs Maggie Kalp parent training, Rev A L Thompson teacher training H R Adams, missions, Miss Florence Lohr temperance S S Fulton community service Rev J C Beahm, music, Clyde Brooks.

FROM PERSONAL EXPERIENCE

Mrs. Bradford Recommends Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Phoebus, Virginia.—"Having this opportunity I just cannot refrain from saying a word of praise for the Lydia E. Pinkham medicines. I have used them as occasion required for twenty years, and my three sisters have also used them, and always with the most gratifying results. During the Change of Life I had the usual distressing symptoms—hot flashes, insomnia, etc., — and I am pleased to testify to the wonderful results I obtained from the Vegetable Compound. I heartily recommend it to any woman and I will be pleased to answer any inquiries that might be sent to me through the publication of my testimonial."—Mrs. H L. BRADFORD, 109 Armstead Street, Phoebus, Virginia.

Consider carefully Mrs. Bradford's letter. Her experience ought to help you. She mentions the trials of middle age and the wonderful results she obtained from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you are suffering from nervous troubles, irritability, or if other annoying symptoms appear and you are blue at times, you should give the Vegetable Compound a fair trial. For sale by druggists everywhere.

A Wholesome Dessert.

One Mother Says:

"Floribello" is the name my youngsters gave to a dessert which a very busy day and those same youngsters, very hungry, forced me to invent. It is nothing more than a slice of whole wheat bread with cream and brown sugar on it. When I have time I cut the bread into fancy shapes, but, plain or fancy, its popularity seems never to wane.

Foreign Area at Shanghai Under Military Rule

By United Press.

SHANGHAI, Sept. 9.—Allied and American military and naval commanders proclaimed martial law in the foreign settlement of Shanghai today as desperate fighting between the rival Chinese armies swept to within eight miles of the city.

Two hundred fifty American marines, with 500 British, Japanese and Italians, landed from foreign war vessels lying off the Woosung. The Americans took positions nearest the fighting along the Woosung border.

John R. Zollars Dies.

John Russell Zollars, 40 years old, brother of W. L. Zollars, freight and passenger agent for the Pittsburg & Lake Erie railroad in the West Side, died Sunday at his home at North Charleroi following a lingering illness. Since 1905 he had resided at Charleroi and Monessen and was widely known in that community. He was also a brother of Mrs. John H. Hoop of Beaver Falls.

Trolley Service to Fair.

On account of the fair at Dawson Wednesday the West Penn will put into effect a 40-minute schedule on the Dickerson Run line, beginning at 8:40 o'clock and continuing until after the races. Automobiles will meet the cars at Dickerson Run. Thursday, the "big day," a 20-minute schedule will be maintained.

Opportunity Open For Training War Disabled in City

The Pittsburg office of the U. S. Veterans Bureau sends a representative to this territory every three weeks for the purpose of arranging job training for disabled ex-service men and employment for rehabilitated veterans with the employers in this district.

The men to be cared for under this arrangement are veterans of the World War, who were injured or received disabilities as a result of their service, which constitute a vocational handicap, and place upon the federal government the responsibility for training and employment in a line in which the disability would not affect their employment. Men with one arm are trained for work in which only one arm is brought into use.

The great majority of these men are normal in appearance and normal in ability. Less than five per cent of them have an apparent disability, and more than 90 per cent of them are able men, looked at from the viewpoint of the employer. Their disability consists of handicaps only insofar as their pre-war occupations are concerned.

The United States Government in order to make them productive factors in the country's growth and development is endeavoring to educate and to train them so that they will be able to make their living in new lines of occupations wherein their physical and mental abilities will be equal to the demand made upon them. All employers can assist in this work by providing training opportunities and employment opportunities.

These men are given a maintenance allowance during their period of training.

After they are trained, it is the desire of the bureau that employers take them and pay them according to their individual earning power and accomplishments. The bureau does not ask for charity for them; they do not ask charity for themselves. They deserve prompt and sympathetic consideration, and an opportunity in keeping with the best thought and best feeling of our country.

E. A. Gogley is the representative in charge of this territory for training and employment purposes, and can be reached by mail at the Alleghony Building, Ohio & Sandusky streets, N. S., Pittsburg, Pa.

Grim Reaper

ROBERT H. CRAIG.

An impressive funeral service for Robert H. Craig, formerly of Connellsville, was held Sunday afternoon at the family residence, 1128 Harvard Circle, North Side, Pittsburg. Rev. Dr. Charles W. Fulton, pastor of the Eleventh United Presbyterian Church of Pittsburg, assisted by Rev. Dr. W. D. Jones of the First Presbyterian Church of Pittsburg and Dr. W. I. Wishart of the Eighth United Presbyterian Church of North Side, Pittsburg, officiated. The body and funeral party arrived in Connellsville yesterday morning on train No. 8 and a brief funeral service was held at the grave in Hill Grove Cemetery with Rev. Dr. Fulton officiating. Many beautiful floral tributes showed the esteem in which Mr. Craig was held. Pallbearers were John Moreland, D. [illegible]hill, Harry T. Crossland, and George F. Stouffer, all of Connellsville and Ira C. Ewing of Pittsburg.

Members of the funeral party accompanying the body here were Mrs. R. H. Craig, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace McClenahan, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Shaffer, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Craig and little son, Ben, Miss Lynda Craig and Robert Craig, Jr., family of the deceased, Misses Marian and Eleanor Craig, nieces and Miss Vena Schoen, friend of the family, of Pittsburg. Funeral Director Charles C. Mitchell was in charge.

MRS. JOHN CRAWFINE.

MEYERSDALE, Sept. 9. — The remains of Mrs. John Crawfine, who died at her home at Youngstown, Ohio, were brought here Monday and conveyed to the home of her sister, Mrs. Michael Keegan, from which place the funeral will be held Wednesday morning, leaving the home at 8:45 for SS. Philip and James Catholic Church where requiem high mass will be said by Rev. Father Brady. Interment will follow in the Catholic Cemetery. Mrs. Crawfine before her marriage was Ella Cox, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Cox. She was born and reared here and had many friends who will be sorry to learn of her early demise. Besides her husband she is survived by one child and the following brothers and sisters: James Cox of Barrallsville, Md., Bernard Cox, Mrs. Mary Hay and Mrs. Clara Keegan of Meyersdale, and Miss Nora Cox, a trained nurse of McKees Rocks.

ROBERT E. CURRAN.

Robert Eugene Curran, 27-months-old son of Frank and Helen Heistman Curran of 1135 West Crawford avenue, died at 7 o'clock Monday night following an illness of pneumonia. In addition to the parents, one sister, Mary Louise, survives.

The funeral service will be held at 1 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, Dr. W. H. Hetrick, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran Church, officiating. Interment, in charge of Funeral Director C. C. Mitchell, will be made at West Newton. The funeral party will drive overland to that place.

The Girl Who Bared Her Soul

When Elizabeth promised to be Robert's wife, she did not know to what lengths of treachorous fury a woman will go who is eaten with envy and jealousy. In her inexperience of life, she was to learn that while the mills of the gods grind slowly, they grind exceeding fine—and that her courage and honor would have to meet tests that few women can meet and emerge strong and unscathed.

"In Forever After," Elizabeth bares her soul with fearless frankness. It is a gripping story—yet it is only one of the many remarkable features in October True Story, now on sale at all newsstands.

Divada Independents Take Series From Star Junction

Tri-Town Team Comes to Front With Swinging Bats and Slugs Way to Top.

PALLOW STEALS HOME

Presenting one of the strongest line-ups of the season, and displaying an excellent brand of baseball, the Divada Independents found the crack Star Junction outfit easy in the fifth and deciding game of the inter-town series at Star Junction last evening. The game was a benefit for the family of Charles H. Williams, well known ball player, better known as "Chuck," who died several weeks ago. The final score was 10 to 3. "Hats" Durbin, crack moundsman for the tri-towners, was at his best and allowed the home team only two safe singles, both of a scratch type. Three errors by the victors and two free tickets, account-ed for the runs.

Timcheck, at one time reputed to be one of the best twirlers in the coke region, lost more of his prestige when the Divadarenes' bats seemed to take a fancy to his offerings and slammed out 12 safe hits. Timcheck twirled for the Yough Valley Independents, Connellsville Independents, Collier Independents and other leading clubs in the coke region. He heaved for the Star Junction clan in yesterday's tilt.

The home team started the rumpus in the second frame when they sent one marker across the pan and con-tinued in the third by counting twice. Meanwhile Timcheck was invincible, he visitors being unable to hit safely. With the opening of the fourth frame, he tri-towners began a vicious bat-ting assault and three markers, tying the game, were chalked up. This was only the beginning. The following frame found a quartet of runs flying across the pan and the sixth round paved the way for an additional trio. That was the end of the scoring.

The Yough Valley squad clinched the inter-town series in yesterday's victory, hanging up the third victory in five starts. Star Junction had a 14 to 4 victory in the first tilt and lost the following combat by a 5 to 4 score. In the third game, the Junction club won by a 3 to 0 score. The tri-towners came to their own and won the next two games for the series, 8 to 4 and 10 to 3.

Mike Pallow, one of the latest ac-quisitions of the tri-towners, thrilled the 1,000 odd fans by stealing home while Timcheck, his infield and catcher looked on in dismay.

The Yough City was represented by a "million dollar" line-up according to Manager P. C. Abate in yesterday's tilt and the same if not better one will be pitted against the crack Capa-tan Independents in the next game. Newell led off and played in left field; Andy Getsie was stationed at the ini-tial sack, Arthur Brown chased around the hot corner, Joe Shallen-berger filled in at short, Ray Whipkey held down the keystone sack, Mike Pallow, hitting as clean-up roamed in center field, Jock Menefee ran around in right field, Steve Sohonage and C. W. Durbin formed the battery. Ambrose and John Sohonage were run in as utility men during the game.

The score by innings:

Divada	000 343 0—10 13 3
Star Junction	012 000 0— 3 2 2

Batteries—Divada, Durbin and Steve Sohonage; Star Junction, Timcheck and C. Kerns.

Lightweight Grid Team to Be Formed By West Penn Club

The West Penn Billiard Parlors are organizing a football team for the coming season. It will be a strong light-weight semi-pro aggregation. It will be composed entirely of West Penn patrons. "Tony" Cuneo will be manager.

He says he does not expect his club to outshine the "Tornadoes" the first season, but reminds that "practice makes perfect."

The team's weight will not exceed an average of 140 pounds. "Bob" King will be in charge. "Nick" Cuneo is to get the quarterback posi-tion. All first class teams desiring games away from home will get in touch with "Tony" Cuneo, West Penn Billiard Parlors. Tri-State phone 686.

Klairdales Win Over Bessemer

The Poplar Grove Klairdales shut out the strong Bessemer Independ-ents, 6-0, in a game last evening. Quinn pitched for the Klairdales and was credited with a no-hit, no-run victory. He had 17 strikeouts and issued two free tickets. He also hit one batter. King of Bessemer had 10 strikeouts.

A feature of the game was a home run by Homer Coughenour. The Klairdales also hung up a triple play in the seventh frame. The defeat was only the second administered the Bessemer team this year. The Klair-dales have won 34 and lost 16. The Poplar Grove team will close its sea-son with Normalville, at that place, on September 20.

Capstan Comes To Life; Beats Stewart Again

One scratch single, to right field was all the safe blows that "Rube" Alexander, ace of the Capstan Inde-pendents, allowed in blanking the crack Stewart Independents 6 to 0 at Stewart last evening. Yesterday's victory broke the glass blowers losing streak that had lasted for two weeks, beginning with the defeat at the hands of the Carnegie Independents of Brad-dock. This 17th victory of the year was chalked up and the Bingvillers are determined to pass the half cen-tury mark before the season closes.

Playing the eighth game of the series and with a chance to even the standing the Stewart management sent its southpaw ace, Brinker, who stemmed the glass blowers on one oc-casion, to the mound, but he fared poorly in the initial frame when the visiting nine tallied a quintet of runs. The last marker came in the third frame, Alex chasing Eugene Clawson across the pan with a safe swat.

Alexander twirled his 27th victory of the season and broke his losing streak of three consecutive games. His record for the season stands with 27 wins, three defeats and one tie game. His whiffing record was boost-ed by seven points, as many missing the third strike yesterday. All to-gether, 284 batsmen have fanned be-fore him.

Only one clinker was made by the glass blowers while the home team aided materially with three misplays. Alexander issued two free tickets while Brinker passed three. The lat-ter made a wild pitch. He whiffed eight glass blowers. This was Capa-tan's fifth victory in eight starts.

"Rube" Alexander will hardly get a chance to send his winning streak up to 30 for the year. "Jeff" Moor-man will twirl Thursday with "Rube" drawing the hurling assignment Sat-urday. Either may work on Monday in the final tilt against the Divada Independents.

Thursday the crack Ralph club will play at South Connellsville. The club will come determined to trounce the glass blowers. The Ralph team has won 38 games and lost seven. The game will be called at 4:30 o'clock.

The Yukon Independents, the amateur champions of Westmoreland county, will play at the glass blow-ers' field on Saturday.

The season will come to a close on Monday September 15, when the Divada Independents will appear for a tilt. This will be the last game for both teams.

REAL FOOTBALL WORK IS BEGUN BY COKER SQUAD; FIFTY OUT

The "call" to moleskins has been sounded throughout the scholastic regions. In high schools and colleges gridiron candidates are beginning their workouts and once more husky youths are vieing with one another for positions of the "Varsity."

In Connellsville there is no excep-tion. More than 50 boys have report-ed for grid duty to Coaches J. E. Lerow and Caskey Settle. Some of these lads are fine specimens ready for the honor of bearing the colors of the school. Others are yet rather young, but being ambitious, are out early to learn all they can which will undoubtedly be of value in future years.

There are some new faces on the squad this season—in fact quite a few of them. A new man is some-thing always welcomed on the grid-iron. He is an unknown quantity and in Connellsville he will be given every opportunity to prove his worth. With last year's remnants and these new boys is the 1924 machine to be constructed from.

The coaches have three weeks be-fore the first game. In that time they will be learning what "stuff" each of his lads possesses and when the referee's whistle opens the sea-son on September 27 the public will get its first glimpse of what will represent Connellsville in scholastic circles this fall.

Athletic Club at Vanderbilt Seeks Room for Winter

With winter "just around the cor-ner" interest in the Vanderbilt Athletic Club is on the boom. A club room during the winter where the young men may spend the evening has always been a needy thing in the town. A meeting of the officials of the club will be held during the early part of October at which time officers for the next year will be elected. Peter C. Abate is president of the club and is handling the other posi-tions himself. No successor has been named to the secretarial and treas-ury posts filled by J. H. Whorle who resigned during the early part of the summer. A board of directors will be named at the same time.

Vanderbilt District May Have Grid Team

With the baseball season slowly but surely ebbing, the call of the gridiron and the ring is sounded in the Yough Valley district. Although no formal action has been taken, there will be, in all probability an independent football team represent-ing the tri-town district. The athletes in the river-town region are enjoying their daily "rough and tumble" foot-ball while others are indulging in boxing and wrestling workouts.

In the Realm of Sports.

The Pittsburg Pirates were idle yes-terday, on their way to St. Louis but today will meet the Cardinals in a double-header. One game is scheduled for tomorrow.

* * *

New York Giants lost ground yes-terday, being defeated by Brooklyn. The score was 7-2. "Dazzy" Vance be-ing invincible. The Robins are now a half game behind the league leaders and Pittsburg is two games behind.

* * *

In the American League both the Yankees and Washington Senators won, keeping their standing intact, with the Nats on top by a two-game lead.

* * *

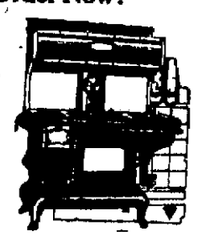

Babe Ruth got another home run yesterday, bringing his season's total to forty-four.

The Paramount

"HIS MYSTERY GIRL," featuring Herbert Rawlinson, provides interesting entertainment today at the Paramount.

Herbert Rawlinson has played dashing, romantic heroes with the sort of chivalrous and courteous personality which makes such characters appealing to the public. However, he has never played a role, it is said, which was so thoroughly a "characterization" all the way through as this one is. In "His Mystery Girl," which was written by Marion Orth and directed by Robert F. Hill, Rawlinson plays a young "business hog" whose mind is so eternally on business that he can't act human enough to have a little fun on occasions.

The cast is adequate to properly convey the essential points of the story. Ruth Dwyer, a promising new "discovery," plays the leading feminine lead opposite Rawlinson. Margaret Campbell, Ralph McCullough, Robert E. Homans, William Quinn, Jere Austin and other film favorites are in the supporting cast.

Wednesday and Thursday "The Man From Wyoming," will be shown.

The Soisson

"BORROWED HUSBANDS" — The feature picture today at the Soisson, presents Rockcliffe Fellowes, Florence Vidor and Earle Williams in interesting roles.

A delightful photoplay of what might be expected if the custom of borrowing and loaning husbands should become general practice. In this story the husbands are treated as any household goods which might be loaned to a neighbor; but prove to be unwieldy and unmanageable at times, providing humorous situations, dramatic effects and occasional thrills through their actions.

The picture as directed by David Smith is calculated to please all types of audience and to that end contains a cast of favorite players, several of whom are stars in their own right; beautiful scenic backgrounds, hobby frocks upon the women, a glimpse of society, country and sporting life and a story that holds the interest.

Florence Vidor wins added laurels in the production; Rockcliffe Fellowes new followers and Earle Williams added admirers.

Wednesday and Thursday, "The Tents of Allah" will be shown.

The Orpheum

"UNGUARDED WOMEN," on view today and tomorrow at the Orpheum, was adapted from the Saturday Evening Post serial, "Face." Bebe Daniels, Mary Astor and Richard Dix appear in the leading roles.

The story has to do with a young fellow who, through a moment of cowardice on the battlefield, feels that he owes a great debt to the young widow of his buddy who had died "out there" while he had hesitated. The girl, without the restraining hand of a husband to guide her, has ruined her reputation in the eyes of society and is rapidly plunging herself into perdition in her blind quest for her false idea of happiness. Bebe Daniels plays the girl, Breta Banning, and Richard Dix is the boy, Douglas Albright. Miss Astor has the role of the other girl whom Albright really loves, though he sacrifices himself by doing what he believes to be his duty—offering Mrs. Banning the protection of his name. What does Helen do? That's the question "Unguarded Women" is answering for hundreds of fans daily.

Thursday, Friday and Saturday, "Duley" with Constance Talmadge in the leading role will be shown.

The Arcade

Living up to its well earned reputation of a high class musical comedy organization, the Leight and Gardner attraction pleased the vast majority of the audience on Monday matinee and night. The biggest surprise of the evening was the high class jazz band organization carried with the company. It was well received at every performance, stopping the show in several instances. The comedy of the show was well taken care of by Jack Compton. The chorus sings well and wears very pretty gowns. A number of feature vaudeville acts are also introduced. The Jack Dempsey picture which has created such a favorable opinion elsewhere went over great with the audience. In addition to being the world's best fighter Dempsey proves himself to be somewhat of an actor also. This is the latest series of Dempsey pictures and the management has certainly picked a winner in this one. The ladies matinee as advertised for 10 cents will no doubt in a short time prove to be a most popular innovation in Connellsville, as quite a number of ladies were present for the Monday matinee.

There will be a complete change of pictures and show for Friday with a special children's matinee for Saturday afternoon.

What My Neighbor Says

Is of Interest to Connellsville Folks.

When one has had the misfortune to suffer from backache, headaches, dizziness, urinary disorders and other kidney ills—and has found relief from all this sickness and suffering, that person's advice is of untold value to friends and neighbors. The following case is only one of many thousands, but it is that of a Connellsville resident. Who could ask for a better example?

Mrs. M. Thorne, 209 N. 7th St., says: "At times, my back became lame and sore and pained in a dull, nagging way. I had headaches and dizziness. After using Doan's Pills, from Hermeling's Drug Store, the dizziness disappeared." (Statement given August 9, 1919).

On December 9, 1922, Mrs. Thorne said: "I had quite a bit of trouble with backache due to kidney disorder but Doan's cured me of the attack."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Pills—the same that Mrs. Thorne had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.—Advertisement.

"I'll see you when I am alone, Myers," answered Lancaster.

"Doctor Lancaster, will you please give me a few moments of your time," said the man urgently; and underneath the plea Joan seemed to see the insolence and contempt in his heart. Suddenly the idea came to her that this must be the man whom Lancaster had berated in the consulting room.

She went out, and as soon as she was in the passage she heard the attendant begin to address Lancaster in excited tones. Then the inner door opened. She fancied there were three men, after all. Somebody was speaking in high tones; and then Lancaster's deep, booming voice rang out:

"You're a fool! You don't know when you are well off. I tell you, I wash my hands of you. This is final—"

Joan could not help but hear. And as she emerged into the passage, all the time hearing the sounds of the quarreling voices, Myers came hurrying past.

He did not see her. He ran to the door, flung it open, and rushed down the steps into the street. As he went along the passage the girl saw him staring right and left; then, as she came out, he saw her and went toward her. She knew that it was she whom he had been seeking.

"What was it Doctor Lancaster was saying to you, Miss Wentworth, before I came in?" he asked in his rasping tone.

Joan stared at him in astonishment. Now she realized that she had mistaken him; he was not a servant, but apparently a member of the doctor's household.

"Will you let me pass, please?" asked Joan, as he blocked the way.

"I want to know what the doctor was saying to you," repeated the man doggedly.

"Are you going to refuse me passage?" demanded the girl, flushing with anger.

He stepped aside with a sneer and a mock bow. "O, very well, if that's your attitude," he answered. "I shall find out."

Joan turned swiftly upon him. "I don't know who you are, but I shall complain of you to Doctor Lancaster," she said.

Myers looked at her and sneered and chuckled. Then, without a word, he went back into the doctor's room. And still the voices kept up their quarreling dialogue.

Joan found herself in the street in the twilight, and now the unreality of the absurd interview struck home to her. She tried to puzzle it out. Before she reached the boarding house she thought she had her clue.

That Lancaster, the terror of the nurses, should have been unable to promise immediate reinstatement, his evident good-will, his indecision and illness were explicable only in one way. The man Myers must be a relative, the third man perhaps a nephew. Lancaster had been supporting a worthless pair in idleness, and had turned on them in exasperation. That was the meaning of his look of illness, his preoccupation—the shock of some domestic discovery.

At any rate she was satisfied with some such solution. And she was certain that, if she pleased him with her mysterious mission, her reinstatement would follow. She went home happy, and Mrs. Webb read the news in her face the moment she opened the door.

"I knew it, my dear," she exclaimed with pleasure. "I knew that you could twist that old devil round your finger if you tried hard enough."

"Mrs. Webb, it was nothing of the kind," said Joan. "And Doctor Lancaster is one of the kindest of men. He's going to try to have his decision reversed, and—Mrs. Webb, he is sending me to a sanitarium, on a case, in the meantime."

She checked herself, suddenly remembering Lancaster's caution. But Mrs. Webb took the girl to her wide bosom and kissed her.

"You little humbug!" she said.

"Mrs. Webb," cried Joan, scandalized, "if you knew—"

But when she was upstairs she sat down suddenly and faced her conscience. What impression of herself had she given in the consulting room? She did not know. This scene, like that of the morning, had become blurred in her memory, and time had begun to flow very fast after the slowness of her twenty-two years. Certainly stranger things had happened that day than at any time since her mother's death!

She leaned out of the window. She suddenly remembered that the institute was not many miles from her old home. It would be almost going home—and on the morrow. Joy leaped into her heart.

Then she saw something that for an instant chilled the blood in her veins. Across the street, leaning against the park railings and looking up at the house, was a short, square-built figure of a man wearing a hard hat. She could not distinguish the face, but she thought it was Myers. And she remembered his threat.

What did it mean? Bewildered she turned into her room again. She half regretted now that she was to go to Lancaster.

But in the morning she dismissed the incident from her mind as a fantasy.

Chapter IV

At half past seven in the evening Joan descended from the train at Lancaster station, after an all-day ride.

It was like going home. Joan could not see her village, which was on a branch line, but at Meddington she was only four miles away. There were the same misty mountains, breaking the horizon line, the same small, straggling towns, the same fragrance of the deep forests, bringing back to her those remembrances which a chance odor suddenly unlooses, as at the touch of some magician's slave. The two years that she had spent at Avonmouth seemed to slip out of her recollection.

As the afternoon flew by the distant mountains changed into a semi-circle of irregular heights. Now the train was climbing into the foothills. It was a lonely land. This was further in the back country than Joan had ever been. The villages were becoming mere clusters of negro cabins. There had been two changes of trains and each time the coach became shabbier and more disreputable, and more impregnated with tobacco smoke. The character of Joan's fellow travelers changed as well. They were uncouther, they wore chin beards and rough store suits, they sat perspiring and collarless, the soft hats pulled over their foreheads. But she looked at them with the loving appreciation of her own people that was in her heart, and they, in the presence of the pretty girl who was traveling alone, displayed the innate courtesy of the Southerner.

The sun descended, it was gilding the whole land with level rays of gold and dancing on the horizon like a red ball when the train pulled into Lancaster, the last station before Millville, the terminus. Joan got down and looked about her.

The station was a tiny place and seemed deserted. The booking office was closed. In the waiting room appearing almost to fill it, was a stout negress with a dozen parcels, from the wicker sides of one two bears' heads with blinking eyes protruded. Outside a ramshackle buggy, with a lean chestnut horse attached, was drawn up to the edge of the muddy road.

A well dressed young mountain boy in a hard-felt hat was standing beside it. As Joan came out of the station he turned toward her, took off his hat and bowed.

"Miss Wentworth?" he inquired, in a well-bred tone.

"Yes. You are from the institute?"

"Yes, Miss Wentworth. Mrs. Fraser will be expecting you." He looked beyond her and Joan, turning, perceived to her discomfiture the man Myers, in his hard hat. He must have traveled up in the train with her.

Myers came forward, taking off his hat grudgingly. "Miss Wentworth, I'm sorry if I annoyed you last night," he said. "I ought to have explained to you that I'm the secretary of the institution. I guess my manners ain't very good, but I meant no harm."

Joan, who had witnessed his presence with consternation, now felt a sudden reaction from her fears. Of course, Myers' explanation made the situation intelligible.

She bowed, and he turned to the boy. "You can take Miss Wentworth up," he said. "I'll find a buggy somewhere."

As there was only room for two in the buggy, Joan did not demur to the proposition. She stepped in the young man holding out his hand to guard her dress from the wheel. Joan glanced at the man with momentary interest. He had the appearance of a gentleman, and the manners of one. There was no hint of either servility or presumption and yet there was a sort of independence about the man which fitted him admirably. He flicked the horse, and the buggy began to crawl out of the station yard along the single street of a tiny village, straggling uphill. It was a white village, but clusters of shanties a little back among the pines betrayed the presence of the black element. There was a store or two their fronts plastered with tobacco and baking powder advertisements, and in front of each stood a gaunt, yellow-faced hillman, chewing and gazing after the buggy with unanimated face.

"This is Lancaster?" asked Joan.

"Yes, Miss Wentworth."

"The people here look depressed."

"There's a good deal of sickness, Miss Wentworth. Hookworm, and what they used to call malaria. But there isn't any malaria here; it's bad diet—salt pork and soda biscuits. And there's pellagra, it's been here for generations, but it wasn't till last year that the medical commission discovered it."

The coachman's knowledge might have been ludicrous in most men of his class, but there was nothing ridiculous in the grave, refined face of the young mountaineer. He must have picked up some knowledge at the institute, thought Joan.

"But it's healthy up in the hills, Miss Wentworth," he added. "This village is Millville. They used to grow cotton in the valley over yonder, but the frost killed the crops three years ago and the mill fell into ruin. Quite a little water power in that stream."

EAST HUNTINGDON CONSOLIDATION OF SCHOOLS APPROVED

Board of Education Did Proper Thing, State Superintendent Writes.

SCOTTDALE AREA NEWS

Special to The Courier.

SCOTTDALE, Sept. 9.—The members of the school board of East Huntingdon township and Superintendent Donald P. Davis have received a letter from Harrisburg relative to the Browntown school situation. The communication is from Dr. J. George Becht, state superintendent of public instruction, and states that he has reviewed the situation very carefully in the Browntown one-room school and the White two-room graded school, and quotes sections 1407 and 3701 of the school code, giving the board authority to consolidate any schools, provided that no child has to walk more than one and one-half miles. It is his opinion that the board has taken the proper action.

There will be no further argument in the matter. All children reported at White yesterday and the school was reorganized and started off nicely. The teachers here are Hazel Shively, room No. 1, and Gladys Pyle, No. 2.

Rain Delays Work.

Rain on Friday kept East Huntingdon people from working on the new athletic field. Wednesday has been set aside for work. Residents of the township were willing to turn out to a man to work on the field. If it rains on Wednesday, Thursday will be the day. Should it rain on Thursday no day has been set but it is hoped that at least Wednesday or Thursday will be fair. This will be one of the best athletic fields in this community when it is made ready, but there are no funds available for improving it and the citizens have been asked to give their labor and the use of their machinery for a day.

Charles W. Watson, football coach, has put a lot of pep into practice. Signal work is being gone over back of the old high school building. The material for this year's team is good.

Mrs. Clyde Chambers Dead.

Mrs. Ida May Chambers, 42 years old, wife of Clyde Chambers died at her home in Painter street, Everson, on Monday. Besides her husband she is survived by her mother, Mrs. Emmaline Felton; three sisters and two brothers, Albert Bale of Scottdale, Mrs. J. H. Cruse of Everson, William Felton of Everson, Mrs. S. J. Barnett of Sandy Ridge and Mrs. Emanuel Malik, Jr., of Everson.

The funeral service will be held at the home Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, in charge of Rev. J. T. Farnsworth, pastor of the Everson United Brethren Church. Burial will be made in Scottdale Cemetery.

Infant Dies.

Edward John Pisczynski, the three-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Pisczynski of Everson, died yesterday. The funeral service was held at St. Joseph's Church this morning.

Committee to Call Pastor.

A congregational meeting will be held after worship next Sunday morning at the Presbyterian Church for the purpose of electing a committee to secure a pastor. Two persons will be chosen from the session, two from the trustees, and two from the congregation. Rev. J. E. Hutchison, pastor of the church, leaves October 1 for Clarion, to which place he has accepted a call.

Class Entertained.

M. Lee Sherman entertained the Caravan Class of the Christian Church at his home last evening at the regular business and social meeting.

Corn Roast Thursday.

The corn roast planned for the teachers and board of East Huntingdon township for last Friday evening was postponed until Thursday night of this week. It will be held at Ruffsdale. This will include all of the teachers in the township, the school directors and their wives.

Missionary Meeting.

The Woman's Home Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal Church will hold its regular monthly meeting on Thursday afternoon at the church.

To Name Officers.

The Jubilee Circle of the Methodist Episcopal Church will hold a meeting and the annual election of officers at the church on Thursday evening.

Mrs. Vance Hostess.

Mrs. Victor Vance will entertain the Woman's Bible Class of the Christian Church Friday evening.

PILGRIMAGE TO FORMER HOME OF ALBERT GALLATIN

Historical Instructors and Students Will Visit Friendship Hill.

LAFAYETTE WAS A GUEST

PITTSBURG, Sept. 9.—History instructors and students in schools and colleges of Western Pennsylvania and members of historical associations will make a pilgrimage from Pittsburg and McKeesport September 20 to the Friendship Hill home of Albert Gallatin, near New Geneva, on the Monongahela River, in commemoration of the visit of the United States 100 years ago of Marquis de LaFayette and his entertainment the following spring at the Gallatin mansion.

The steamer Red Wing has been chartered for the trip and will leave McKeesport in the early morning. Prof. Carman C. Johnson, professor of history at the Westinghouse High School, will, with aides, point out spots of historical interest along the route. Friendship Hill will be reached in the afternoon and the return trip will be completed by midnight.

Gallatin was secretary of the treasury under Presidents Jefferson and Madison. Himself of noble birth in Switzerland, he shared with LaFayette ideals of liberty and self-government. What William Penn was to Eastern Pennsylvania and what Prince Gallitzin was to Central Pennsylvania Gallatin was to the western section of the state.

He was a member of the Pennsylvania Legislature in 1790-1-2, was elected to the United States Senate in 1793 and was compelled to resign because he had not been sufficiently long in America to qualify for membership.

He returned to Pennsylvania, was again elected to the state Legislature and in the same year was sent to the lower house of the Federal Congress, where he became the leading anti-Federalist. Subsequently he was envoy to Russia, represented the United States in the treaty negotiations at Ghent and was minister to Great Britain and France.

He returned to Friendship Hill in 1823 and remained there two years, when he was host to LaFayette. Later he went to New York, reached an eminent place in banking there, founded the New York University and attained many other distinctions.

NUMBER OF AUTOS AND DEATHS GROW ABOUT SAME RATIO

In 1895, not quite 30 years back, there were just 300 registered automobiles in the United States. In 1922, there were more than 12,000,000, an increase of impressive proportions. Actually there were 40,000 times as many automobiles in the latter year as in the former.

These figures have just been compiled in a survey of the effect of the automobile upon the mortality of the nation, and are considered the best possible incentive for unceasing endeavors to devise efficient traffic control. In 1917, when there were some 5,000,000 automobiles in the nation at large, the number of automobile deaths was 14,000.

This shows that while the number of registered cars was more than twice as many at the end of that six-year period, the number of automobile deaths, in the same interval, had increased by more than one-half.

The number of cars per one thousand of population in 1917 was 48; the number of automobile deaths per one thousand of population in that year was .0887. In 1922, these figures wer , respectively, 115 and .1334.

ATHENS, Greece, Sept. 9.—American tractor plows are now turning the soil of the ancient battlefields where the Macedonian phalanx was invented more than 2,000 years ago. Trenches and earthworks which have not been disturbed for 20 centuries are being smoothed out for cultivation, to help solve the refugee problem.

Large areas of land, which have not been cultivated since the days when Macedonia was the center of the empire of Alexander the Great, proved an impossible problem for the inadequate animal-drawn plows of the refugee farmers. At the suggestion of the Near East Relief, the government mobilized a number of modern American tractor prows, which have been working throughout the summer. Autumn sowings will be largely increased through the excellent results obtained.
